DITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL Madison, Jan. 9th. Here again, after a pleasant enough ride all he way by rail, a consummation long devoutly vished for by visitors to the capital, and at the first twelve miles from Milwaukee, having been packed into one car, (some 100 of us,) owing to the newsleams presence of a freight train on the track, or rather under and on the track, in the temerack swamps. So we matched in gay procession around the piles of wheat and pork, and reached a better state of things on the hither side of the unfortunate train, and stowing ourselves as best we could, travelled on, taking up constant accessions to our number, and arriving here at about 1 P. M.

Madison has grown wonderfully since my las residence here, but of its manifold and manifest improvements I must take some other apportunity to write. A large majority of the members are already at hand, and ready for work. The usual business of making and sounding acquaintances has gone forward this afternoonvarious parts of the village, though I presume that the formal "caucus" will be held to-morrow morning. It is gratifying to see the excel tent spirit which seems to prevail among the Rehave been able to learn, they seem to regue their organization as a thing not for a day only but as a matter which, with prudence, is to held in permanence to the great good of the SECURE, of Kenowha, as Speaker; ences for officers, but I have heard of none, wh are so determined to have their own way-to rule-as to be willing to blast the fair prospect before them. Therefore all things look well. As things are now, perhaps I may begard a guess at the organization of the Assembly, and it seems probable that O. C. Snores will be nominated by the Republicans for Speaker, and Col. Arwoon, of the Journal, for Clerk, and both be elected .-Wm. Welch of this place is also a capdidate for the clorkship, and Mr. Stansbury, of Wankesha Co., has some strength and Mr. Gary, of Winnebego Co., is spoken of for Speaker but against the wish of his friends, I think, as they desire his able services on the floor. For Sergeant-at-Arms, the prominent candidates are Gon. BLAKE of Dodge Co., and Mr. STARR, of our city; but whose chance is the best I cannot tell. The Senate, I presume, will have a lemouratic organization, as there is a majority of that sort.

I fearn from the Comptroller that there securities on hand to the amount of $100.000 more than the Bank circulation out.

THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

The West has been afflicted beyond measure

during the past six months, by the frequent failures of distant Banks and the sudden and rapid depreciation of Bank paper which had been put in circulation and represented by those paying it length realized. We were at close quarters for out as good money. This has been done as well by individual operators as by Banking Institutions. The profits have outred to them, while the loss-and in many instances it was serious-has fallen upon the public. That such a state of things should excite very strong feeling among the sufferers is not to be wondered at ; nor is it matter of surprise that the same power, to wit the local Leg. slatures, which have conferred mon the Banks the privileges which they enjoy, should now be called upon to restrict those from paying out a doubtful, or depreciated fereign currency. Precisely what remedy this conceded and growing wil demands it is not oney to decide. The diffi culty is, in drawing the line between what shall be admitted and what excluded. Last year, it was thought a safe tule to receive and pay out all secured money, and reject every other sort. But the experience of the past three months has shown the fallacy of that rule; for the secured money and this evening conferences are being held in of the Indians, Michigan, and some of the Illinois Banke, has only been bankable at a frightful shave, while the unsecured money of Atlanta and some other Banks has passed current.

This perplaying question has recently engaged the attention of the Chicago merchants and Business men, and at a very large meeting on the 6th instant, called to consider the subject, they manimously adopted the fellowing resolutions

Resolved, That our Senator and Representa-tives be requested to use their efforts to secure the passage of a law that will prohibit the pay-ing out of all fereign concerncy within our State by any Banker, Broker, Corporation, or dealer in money, that is at a greater rate of discount than 35 of one per cent, in the city of New York.

We think it would be well for the Merchants and Basiness Men of Milwankee to meet and consult tagether on this same subject. There is no doubt that our Legislatore will be called to act upon it, and there is great need that it should not wisely. Suggestions as to the proper Legislative remedy for the abuses complained of, wo'd two will received from those whose daily occupation makes them familiar with the subject. And thus a measure might be matured which while protecting the people from the evils of a depreciated and emsettled paper currency, would impose no unnecessary restrictions upon the business of banking, nor offer any obstacle to the free influx of capital and the legislimate use of credit.

of Wisconsin, under a basis of banking in that State.

2. By this arrangement the stock holders are made perfectly score against the necessary embarrassments incident to the changes and fluct authors in financial affilias which time brings ahout and this advantage is not least in importance as experience shows that the debt of a company which remains unprovided for by some system at ic and caratian plan of payment, is the greatest bane to the prosperity of such company and to its predit, stability and the jorning value of its

In vier of the large revenue which must acc ue to the company as is apparently from the statements above made, it would seem that the cap tall the made lay or account of the company might be made larger than that adopted, but the cost of the road dies and that adopted, but he cost or he road o es not seem to justify an amount larger than that designated. this morning. The defendant's counsel research challenged the array of the jury, and offered an affidavit setting forth that the Marshal was projudiced de egainst the defendant. The counsel spoke a few minutes, when the judge stated that it was not necessary to take time, as the question had been sattled in the court five or six years ago. Counsel claimed to be heard, and referred to the act of congress prescribing the manner in which jurous should be drawn, as near as possible, in conformity with the state practice. The judge remarked that the court had a rile on the subject, and should abide by it. Defi's counsel enquired whether the judge claimed that the rale of this court should supercode the act of Congress? We understood the court to say that the rale was made as near as could be to conform to the act of congrese, and by it they must shide. Some time here was taken up in discussing the manner in which certain men had got on the panel, and it was claimed they were enemies to the defendant; the discussion was ended by the judge overruling the motion, at the asso at time remarking, "if thous men are called as jurons, you can challenge them, and if you do so, we shall afford the defendant every facility for obtaining his righte."

lenging, excusing, peremptory challenging, &c., until fifty-seven names were exhausted before the jury had been brought down to the twelve. Here one of the jurors, Mr. James B. Martin, who had refused to be sworn, (eleven only having taken the oath,) distinctly avowed, for the third or fourth time, that his prejudices, against the defendant were such that he could not sit as an impartial juror in the case, and again refused to be eworn, and turning to the Judge said : " I decline to sit, or he sworn on this jury, and I leave it to the mercy of the Court to inflict on me what punishment they think fit." A long discussion followed here between counsel, &c , and the matter ended by Mr. Marrin being excused, and Mr. G. P. Austin being sworn in as the twelfth juror, making fifty-eight names in all ex-

The Jury, as empanelled, stands thus: Ckoro Comsteek, Andrew Ebla, Peter Martineau, John Willer. H. C. West, Daniel Phelps, Hiram J. Russ, User Phelps, Horan J. Russ, Mr. Sharpatein opened the case for the prose cution to the jury, by reading the indicamon which contained five counts, three of which were under the law of 1790, and the other two under the law of 1850, (Fugitive Slave Law) the first counts charged the obstruction of process in the hands of the U. S. Marshall, and the other and; last counts for aiding in the escape of "a fugitive: owing service." Mr. Sharpstein claimed that the prosecution would show that the defendant had issued bandbills on the morning of the day of the rescue, stating that a man had been kidnapped, and was in fail; would the citizen low their fail to be used by the Kiddappers; that he (def'c) meanted his horse and rode round the streets, calling out " Citizens to the Rescue." Mr Sharpstein said that a meeting was called, and speeches made declaring the Fugitive Slave Law unconstitutional; that the meeting was adjourned, and met again in the afternoon; speeches were again made; a boat arrived from Racine with a crowd to take the fugitive back; that deft met them -- conducted them to the jail; that the there took an individual aside, and told him to go to Oakley's for a team to take the fugitive back -- that the jul was to be broken open; the team came; that ofter the fugitive was taken out of the jail, defendant had followed him to Walker's Pt. bridge, and vouched for his safety, and insisted upon his being taken of.

The Counsel contended that the pract was so clear, as to admit of no doubt; that the defendant was the first man engaged in the rescue-that he commenced it by inflammatory speechesfollowed it up systemstically, and was the leader. Defendant's counsel claimed that, as the indictment being drawn under two sets of Congress, and charging two esparate misdemespors, the prosecution ought to elect under which counts the defendant should be tried, and forther claims that the defendant should not be put on trial for two different offenses at one time. The court stated that it was the first time the he had heard the indictment read : that the offences charged although under different lawsthe same offence was charged in all the counts, and were the same as if all the counts wer drawn under one section of a law.

The New County Buildings. Meairs. Littors .

As the Board of Supervisors of this County are contemplating taking the requisite steps, near the close of their term of office, for the location and erection of new County Buildings, it may not be amiss to state the position in which the County stands, in relation to the Lets on which for ship has in store t House is now situated, and elso the Lot fee a minutes before the jail was broken— seld no office from the jailor—inch no key of the on which the Jail and County office; have been all—when the door was burst Glover was stand-self.—when the door was burst Glover was standerected by the County. The present Board, as I understand, claim the right to charge the sites and fix on a new County Seat, under an act of the Legislature passed last winter, and one que tion to be considered is, whether the nower than conferred on the County Board of Supervisors, eyer existed with the Legislature? This, however, I will not discuss, until we have seen how the little stands to the Court House property. Lots 2 and 3 in block 71, on which the Jail and brick offices are situated, were purchased by the County of Mr. Elisha Eldred, and are conse quently the property of the County. Lots 4 and 5 in the same block, which is the Court House site, with the Court House thereon were conveyed to the County on the 19th of January, 1837 for one dollar consideration, by Solomon Juneau and wife, and Morgan L. Martin, " to be used by the said County for public purposes," with the following provise in the deed:

"Provided always that if the said on unises here-by converged shall coave to be used for public purpo-ses, as aforesaid, and the Coart Unise in and for said County of Milmarkes, shall be established you saw commy of incurances, than those hereby con-upon any other presents shall or unid, and the premises hereby conveyed shall revert to the per-sons who would be entitled thereto, in case this dead had not been executed." It is therefore very clear, that the County cannot hold the Court House site for any period longor than they are occupied for the purposes ex pressul in the deed.

The Select Committee of the Board of Boper visors in their report, under date of January 3d, take the ground; that a location for the new buildings on block 76 in the 4th Ward, with about three acres of ground, can be abtained for less money than the present buildings and the on which they stand will bring at public auction; thereby giving the public to enderstand, that the County owns all the Court Liouse property, and can cease to use, and can all the same, at any time the County Board may see fit.

This is evidently a mistaken view, so far as it relates to lots 4 and 5, as the proviso in the deed passes the property back to Juneau and Martin or their assigns, the moment the County ceases to use it, for the purposes expressed in the conveyance. This committee also take the ground that by the authority conferred by the Legislature, the Board can relect a new site, and cause buildings to Le built thereon for the use of this County. This is quite doubtful at least, as the Legislature under the Constitution, busine power to remove a County Seat, until the point to which it is proposed to be removed, shall be fixed by law, and appointed by the voters of the County. The provision in the Constitution is in these words: "No County Seat shall be removed until the point to which it is proposed to be removed shall be fixed by law, and a majority of the yo ters of the County voting on the question, chall have voted for the removal to such point" " The Wards in this city, are made Towns by the City Charter, so far as relates to a representation i the County Board, and for all County purposes whatever; and it is therefore quite evident that the County Board of Supervisors of Milwaukoo County have no control over the matter of changing the location of the County Buildings from their present site, until the pravision of the Constitution on that subject is fully complied with:

Correspondence of he Rew York Tribune A Negro Maiming Himself.

Shelf Towary, (Ky.) Dec. 24, 1854.

Mr. Thomas, of this banner county, sold one of his black men yesterday, but when they undertook to handcoff the poor fellow, to carry him off down the river, away from his wife and child, he broke loose and ran to a wood-pile, soized an ax, laid his hand upon a block and cot it smooth off at the wrist. Still, Dr. Adams car see "a south side view of Slavery." I have been born and raised in Kontucky, and I mover have seen any south side to Blavery, according to the sense he conveys. True, I have seen a pretty warm side; but his south vide—why he might as well admonish his co-workers in sin and iniquity to go ahead and not be alarmed, for he can see a north side to the flames of hell.

The new milk and elevators which have been exerted and completed the past season upon the barnt diatrict, on the east side of the river, have added largely to our storing, grinding and elevator of the capacity. The facilities of 0-swego in this respect exceed those of any other port in the State or the country,—that is, we can tranship more property, with more dispoted than any other place. We can elevate from vessels and discharge into caust boats, forming the entire work of transhipment, 200,000 busishes of grain with ease, every day through the senson. In times of the largest receipts, no vessel need wait for a open considerably increased by the new oracious.— We are not prepared to give the precise extent of increase, but we may safely say that more flour can be made here than at any other place in this country, or, perhaps, any other. From this cause, and the advantages of position, Oswego is only second to New York in the magnitude of her made there have largely fathen off, in consequences of the perial failure of the Chin cop for the last two seasons, while those at Chicago have largely increased from the extensions of her railroads and the abundance of the Illinois crops,—[Oswago Palladium.] The new mills and elevators which have been seds and the abundance of the Illinois crops,- Oswago Palladium. A Max Hiller.—A sad accident occurred on Monday last, at the intersection of the Railroad, just out of the village of Jackson. A man by the name of Wells, from the western part of the country had spent the day in the village, with his team, and as we are informed, breame intusicated. Arriving at the cressing of the Railroad, on his way home, he askly attempted to unge his horses across in front of a passing train, which struck them, killing one, crushing the wagon to atoms, and rendering the poor upon a mere mess of mangled flesh. The remains of the wagon, still lies by the radside, the and relies of the "Battle of Run."—[Detroit Advertiser, 6th just.
